SIM – UNIVERSITY OF LONDON PRESENTATION CEREMONY

3 & 4 APRIL 2025

SIM Campus,
Singapore

CELEBRATING THE COLLABORATION BETWEEN THE SINGAPORE INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT AND THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

The partnership between the Singapore Institute of Management (SIM) and the University of London (UOL) has spanned almost four decades, beginning in 1986. This long-standing collaboration has flourished into a cornerstone of academic excellence in Singapore, providing high-quality education that aligns with the needs of an increasingly globalised and competitive workforce. Together, SIM and UOL have been at the forefront of ensuring that students not only receive a rigorous education but also stay relevant and adaptable in the face of evolving trends across industries. As we come together to celebrate the graduation of the Class of 2024, we reflect upon the growth, innovation, and academic prowess that have uniquely shaped our institution.

A Cornerstone of Excellence

UOL is proud to acknowledge SIM as its largest Recognised Teaching Centre, boasting an impressive enrolment of nearly 5,000 students across more than 40 diverse programmes. With a thriving community of over 50,000 alumni globally, SIM has established itself as a beacon of academic brilliance. The establishment of the UOL-SIM Global Education Regional Centre in 2017, located at the SIM Campus, stands as a testament to the strong and mutually beneficial partnership between the two institutions.

Staying ahead of the Curve

Over the years, SIM and UOL have worked closely to ensure that the curriculum remains responsive to the ever-changing demands of the job market. This includes continually reviewing and updating academic programmes to incorporate the latest industry trends and advancements. For example, the rise of digital technologies, the importance of data-driven decision-making, and the shift toward sustainability in business practices have all been integrated into their Computer Science, as well as the Data Science and Business Analytics programmes. This ongoing curriculum adaptation helps students stay ahead of emerging trends, ensuring they are equipped to meet the challenges of tomorrow's industries.

Moreover, this partnership provides students with unique access to the UOL's world-class faculty and resources, enriching their academic experience while remaining rooted in practical learning. SIM also provides valuable support to students in terms of career services, internships, and industry connections, ensuring that graduates are not only academically prepared but also professionally ready. This symbiotic relationship between academic excellence and industry relevance gives SIM-UOL graduates a competitive edge in the job market, both regionally and globally.

CELEBRATING THE COLLABORATION BETWEEN THE SINGAPORE INSTITUTE OF MANAGEMENT AND THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Global Recognition of Alumni Achievements

In 2024, our esteemed alumni achieved notable milestones by gaining admission into master's programmes at prestigious universities worldwide such as Harvard and Columbia Business School in the United States. Our graduates have also secured coveted positions at Cambridge, University College London (UCL), London School of Economics (LSE) and more. A special mention goes to Chris Lam, who received both the UOL-SIM Regional Centre Master's scholarship and the LSE Master's scholarship. The total value of the scholarships would cover his course fee at the LSE.

University of London,
London

University of London degrees have been accessible to students all over the world since 1858, through the University's transnational provision. Over the years, many exceptional people who have studied with the University have shaped our world. Former students include Nobel Prize winners, leaders of Commonwealth countries, government ministers, renowned authors, academics, judges and business leaders. Today, the University of London's global footprint comprises more than 40,000 students in over 190 countries, adding to the 250,000-strong student body in London. In Singapore, there are close to 5,000 University of London students at SIM.

NOTABLE PAST STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

- Sir Frederick Gowland Hopkins – Winner of the Nobel Prize in 1929 for the discovery of what are now known as vitamins.
- Wole Soyinka – Winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1986.
- Professor Ronald Coase – Winner of the Nobel Prize for Economics in 1991.
- Sir Derek Walcott – Winner of the Nobel Prize for Literature in 1992.
- Nelson Mandela – Winner of the Nobel Peace Prize in 1993.
- Sir Charles Kao – awarded the 2009 Nobel Prize in Physics for the development and use of fibre optics in telecommunications.

ACADEMIC DIRECTION

Academic direction for the degrees awarded by the University of London is provided by federation members of the University. Academics at these federation members develop the syllabuses, prepare the study materials, and are responsible for the assessment of students. This means that students benefit from the academic rigour and leading-edge research of the federation member; and ensures that the standard of award made to students is maintained at the same level as those students studying on campus in London.

Academic direction for the degrees taught at SIM is provided by three prestigious University of London federation members: London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE); Goldsmiths, University of London; and UCL.

THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE ■

THE LONDON SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE

People and ideas that change the world

LSE is a world-leading university specialising in the Social Sciences and home to an inspirational international community.

Founded in 1895, LSE pioneered the study of social sciences, economics and international relations, with the aim of contributing to the betterment of society. LSE academics continue to be leading thinkers in these fields, using their research to influence government policy and advise companies worldwide.

LSE provides the academic direction for the EMFSS (Economics, Management, Finance and Social Sciences) degrees, ensuring that students gain the skills and knowledge they need to go on and make a positive contribution to society. LSE's research underpins curriculum development, which means that all their qualifications are informed by the latest thinking and have a high degree of contemporary global relevance.

LSE is a truly international institution and considers the EMFSS students to be important members of their academic community. Each year we are delighted that a significant number of SIM students continue their journey with LSE by joining the year-long General Course, LSE Summer School, or studying postgraduate degrees in London.

LSE in the QS World University subject rankings 2024:

- 6th Globally for Social Sciences and Management
- 6th Globally for Accounting and Finance
- 5th Globally for Politics and International Studies

LSE is ranked 1st in the UK according to the Good University Guide 2025 and has also been recognised as University of the Year.

GOLDSMITHS, UNIVERSITY OF LONDON

Founded in 1891, Goldsmiths is internationally renowned for teaching and research in creative, cultural and cognitive disciplines. Its distinctive attitude to learning encourages students to explore ideas, challenge boundaries, investigate fresh ways of thinking, and stretch their minds intellectually and creatively.

The Department of Computing at Goldsmiths sees interdisciplinarity as the core of its identity, running undergraduate and postgraduate degree programmes that include the application of computer science to the arts, psychology and business. It is a world-leader for research in computer science, computing and the creative industries, including music, film, TV, visual arts, games and animation.

Goldsmiths oversees the academic direction of the MSc in Data Science, BSc in Computing and Information Systems, BSc in Creative Computing and BSc in Computer Science with specialisms in Machine Learning and Artificial Intelligence, Web and Mobile Development, User Experience, Virtual Reality, as well as Physical Computing and the Internet of Things.

UCL SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

Founded in 1826 in the heart of London, UCL is London's leading multidisciplinary university, with more than 16,000 staff and 50,000 students from 150 different countries. Since 1826, UCL has championed independent thought by attracting and nurturing the world's best minds in academics and students alike.

The UCL School of Management (SoM) provides the academic direction for the MSc in Professional Accountancy, which was launched at SIM in July 2016. The programme is an integrated Masters from the University of London (UOL) enabling students to build upon their professional ACCA accountancy qualification in order to gain a sought after MSc in today's competitive environment.

Also available at SIM since October 2024 is the MSc in Accounting and Financial Management with academic direction from UCL. This programme provides students with an opportunity to acquire, develop and apply master's level knowledge, understanding and skills within accounting, financial management and strategic contexts for business and management. Rather than being a hard-edged quantitative finance programme, it blends quantitative analyses with managerial applications, making it a comprehensive and unique postgraduate degree to study at SIM.

UCL Awards and Subject Rankings

- University of the Year 2024 (The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2024)
- Top university in the UK for research power (Research Excellence Framework)
- 9th Top Global University (QS World University Rankings 2025)
- 30 Nobel Prize laureates amongst UCL's alumni current and former staff to date
